

Attention News Editors:

The Association of Condominium Managers of Ontario new website has arrived

MISSISSAUGA, ON, May 11 /CNW/ - The Association of Condominium Managers of Ontario is very proud to announce the launching of their (ACMO) new website (www.acmo.org) that went live in late April 2006. They had two objectives when they set about to re-design the website. First they wanted to bring the look and feel of their site in line with the new Acmo logo. A quick visit to the site will confirm that they have been able to achieve that objective. Second, they wanted to provide increased functionality for their members and visitors.

ACMO's new site features enhanced database search capabilities that will allow members to search for other members by name, region, and types of membership, as well as a search function of the entire database by words or phrases. In addition, they now offer on-line application forms with the ability to pay on-line.

In the coming weeks they will be adding more features such as on-line payments for all Acmo events, and advertising opportunities for Corporate and Associate Members through Banner Ads.

After investing some time surfing the new site, visitors will appreciate what ACMO has been able to achieve and it will be time well spent.

About the Association of Condominium Managers of Ontario:

The Association of Condominium Managers of Ontario was formed in 1977 to represent the collective aims of all condominium managers. ACMO's Mission is to enhance the condominium management profession in Ontario by advancing the quality performance of Condominium property managers and management companies.

ACMO provides formal educational programs which, coupled with experience and successful completion of an exam, culminate in the well known Registered Condominium Manager (R.C.M.) designation. Ongoing education is provided through luncheons, seminars, technical bulletins, newsletter and Condominium Manager Magazine. In this increasingly complex profession, this education provides ACMO members with a solid foundation for business success.
